Southeast . . . its high scholastic standard exhibited through National Merit finalists, champion debaters, award winning choirs, and outstanding athletes. It is a progressive school, where modern classrooms and equipment encourage students to explore new idea concepts.

This book is respectfully dedicated to two principles: the acceptance of new ideas as exhibited in new pep uniforms, and the contribution by each individual student of the 2,416 total who helps to make Southeast what it is.

Academics

Academics is, of course, the most important function of school. Southeast offers a wide range of courses in many different areas for all students on various learning levels. Modern classrooms and equipment aid the students in receiving an education; a climax for some, and a threshold for others.

Principal Responsible For Students, Faculty

Responsibility for the student body, faculty, and administration is the primary duty of any high school principal, and Dr. Fred G. Addis, principal of Southeast High School is no exception. He concerned himself with the activities of the school by attending athletic events, drama and music productions, and proved his interest in the students by mingling among them in the halls and cafeteria during school hours.

Dr. Addis was particularly busy this year directing the construction of additions to Southeast. The construction process forced him, as well as vice-principal Mr. Budd and Mr. Graham, assistant principal, to move into the Student Lounge until the administrators' office was enlarged.

Having received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Wichita State University, Dr. Addis earned his doctorate from the University of Colorado in Boulder.

Dr. Addis directed the construction of additions to Southeast involving the acreage outside B, C, D and E corners, and the center courtyard.

During fourth hour, Dr. Addis talked with students in the cafeteria and occasionally aided the cafeteria workers by operating the milk shake machine.

Mr. Keith Graham, Southeast's new assistant principal, offers advice to all clubs concerning their funds and activities.

Administrators Pattern Scheduling, Activities

Mr. O. J. Budd, as the vice-principal of Southeast, very capably managed most procedures taking place in the office.

Planning the enrollment for the next school year and assisting students with their schedule problems were Mr. Budd's primary tasks. He also shared disciplinary duties with Mr. Graham, organized the bus routes, and collaborated with the security officers in policing the campus.

During his first year at Southeast, Mr. Keith Graham, assistant principal, was exposed to the cycle of a large high school, having formerly been assistant principal of Truesdale Junior High School. Mr. Graham concurred with Mr. Budd in matters of discipline, scheduled daily events, and supervised club activities.

As office manager, Mr. O. J. Budd very properly takes over the new school's schedule enrollment problem for Southeast students, as well as supervising activities of the office staff, faculty, and student body.

Students and Faculty Aided By Office Staff

Assorted secretarial and supervisory duties occupied eight office staff members.

Mr. Budd's assistant, Mrs. Clifton, and Mrs. Rogers handled new enrollments and IBM cards, while Mrs. Ridgway calculated grade averages.

Controlling absences and tardies, Mrs. Herd worked in the Attendance office.

As student coordinator, Mr. Dave Leach was in charge of unexcused absences and the parking lot situation.

Typing and working at the counter occupied Mrs. Schretfler each day.

Mrs. Reiser, Dr. Addis' correspondent, and Miss Wilke prepared the school payroll and budget, and also took care of the funds of the various clubs.

Mrs. Walters aided teachers and counselors in understanding troubled students.

Miss Fanny Thompson, senior counselor, explained graduation requirements and assists Mr. Bare with College Night

Junior counselor Mr. Richard Elving and Mrs. June Turner discuss personal problems, as well as scholastic difficulties with prospective upperclassmen

Discussing college entrance requirements and examinations with students is a primary task of Mr. Corwin E. Bare, college counselor

Students Directed By Guidance Counselors

Coordinator of the guidance center and college counselor, Mr. Corwin E. Bare conferred with students about aptitude and college entrance examinations, scholarships, and various colleges. He also organized College Night and Career Day

Miss Fanny Thompson, senior counselor, explained graduation requirements to seniors

The junior and sophomore counselors, Mr. Richard Elving and Mrs. June Turner, helped future seniors and juniors to determine their courses for the next year

Mrs. Jeri Bugg's English III class is introduced to the available resources of the library by Mrs. Fields. The present 14,500 shelved volumes in the library will be increased to 60,000 over a period of five years after the completion of the new library.

Mrs. Virginia Fields is the new head librarian this year, replacing Mrs. Emma Seeley, who retired.

Mrs. Louise Stevens, clerical assistant, handles the day-to-day operational aspects of the library, as well as checking on the circulation of books.

Library Plans Approved; Construction Commences

Plans for the new Southeast library were completed by January, 1968. Built in the courtyard, the library layout included a ground floor and a mezzanine comprising conference and typing rooms, team teaching and visual aid equipment rooms, and featuring an air-conditioned browsing room furnished with soft chairs and lamps. Special accouterments planned for were microfilms, tapes, and filmstrips.

The library will have a capacity of 60,000 shelved volumes, compared to the 1967 fall total of 14,500 books. The 60,000 volume goal will be achieved within five years.

As assistant librarian, Mrs. Mary Wing helps students to locate books and research sources and works behind the desks checking in and out magazines and volumes.

English Offers Various Learning Level Classes

Varied aspects of English were continued in the department through EMH (Education for the Mentally Handicapped), basic, honors, and advanced placement English classes. Other courses were also presented, encompassing the areas of English Literature, English Composition, College Reading, Humanities, Speech, and Journalism.

A change in the English curriculum occurred in the Humanities course where for the first time at Southeast, a special program was arranged for ten students by Mr. Lee Streiff, one of three Humanities teachers. Lasting a week, an investigation tracing the transition of Man from a primitive to a more or less civilized society was developed by the Anthropology Curriculum Study Project in Chicago.

Receiving six new teachers in the fall of 1967, the department again enlarged to meet the demands of an ever-increasing number of students at Southeast. The new teachers were: Mrs. Jeri Bugg, Mrs. Barbara Calvert, Mr. Dean Campbell, Mrs. Mary McGraw, Mr. John Morton, and Mrs. Donna Rothgeb.

Mrs. Helen Christie aids her class in writing themes. She is the Head of the English Department and also teaches English II and Basic English III.

Language Dept. Adds Revised German Course

Learning German by the "constant hearing and seeing" method was a new experience for Southeast German students. In the renovated course, students employed only a book of pictures and no communication except in the German language to further their knowledge of vocabulary and usage. No written examinations were given.

Until the completion of construction of new foreign language laboratories and classrooms, half of the curriculum of the department took place in the Curtis Junior High School building. All German and Spanish classes were conducted in Curtis, but after construction has terminated, the classes will be taught in the new wing. Latin and French courses were taught in the Southeast building in F, C, and B halls.

Each year the National Foreign Language League has sponsored a study trip to Europe. European universities opened their doors to American students who studied the native lore and language of the country.

Music, Art, and Drama Encourage Achievement

All phases of the Fine Arts Department encouraged students to strive toward aspects of personal achievement.

Various concerts acquainted vocal and instrumental music students with performing before an audience. Mr. Thayne Tolle taught a new course, Music Theory.

Introduction to art and ceramics classes were taught by a new faculty member, Mrs. Jean Price. Commercial design and drawing/painting completed the curriculum.

Dramatic productions were presented throughout the year by Miss Ruth McCormick's drama classes. The Diary of Anne Frank was produced in the fall while comedies, one-act plays, and the Spoon River Anthology entertained the public later in the year.

Plans for additions to Southeast included two new art rooms.

Math Classes Crowded; Dept. Staff Increased

Crowded conditions were evident in the mathematics department as most classes swelled to approximately thirty-five students. Three Algebra II classes were added to the curriculum in order to handle the fluctuating number of math students.

Increasing the number of math teachers last year from seven to this year's eight, Mr. Robert Herdt and Mr. Dennis Sherman joined the department staff.

During their years in high school, all students took at least one course in mathematics, as one unit of math was required for graduation. Since most colleges demand two or more units of credit, equations and theorems became familiar topics of conversation.

Students took advantage of business mathematics, principles of mathematics, trigonometry, and analytic geometry classes, and several students commuted from Southeast to East High School for calculus courses which were not offered at Southeast.

New Aeronautics Class Teaches Flying Basics

Forecasting the weather, navigating, and learning flight rules captured the interest of Aeronautics students. Offered for the first time this year, the one semester course encouraged a general appreciation of the principles of aviation, and also prepared students who would possibly take the Aviation Administration written examination. The class, taught by Mr. Charles Hatter, also planned field trips to local airplane manufacturers, the Wichita Municipal Airport, and the Weather Bureau.

The science department will benefit from a new biological science room, storeroom, and office in the new wing.

Science teachers representing eleven states attended the Midwest Regional Conference in Wichita October 12-14. Southeast teachers attended the meetings and planned the tours.

The Science department staff dropped in number this year from eight to seven. Mr. Neil Miller became a member of the Southeast faculty after leaving Coleman Junior High School.

Man's Behavior; Govt. Examined By Students

Investigating the history of Mankind and his present mode of behavior was the primary objective of the many Southeast students who enrolled in Social Studies classes this year.

Various courses which were available ranged from a study of Man through the ages to the examination of current events. Juniors were required to take U. S. History and Government was a requisite for seniors; both were team-teaching classes. In team-teaching, the class contained 100 students, and three teachers rotated as instructor of the course. Southeast has used the method for seven years.

Business Atmosphere Resounds From B-hall

Observing his students as they type a daily assignment, Mr. Grant Page teaches both Clerical Training and Typing.

B-hall echoed the rhythms of typing and the drone of shorthand dictation as Southeast students became acquainted with the atmosphere of the business department.

Offered for the first time this year, a personal typing course interested many college-bound students. The class stressed scholastic typing more than vocational preparation.

Advanced typing students in B-7 took advantage of adjustable chairs made available to them this year.

As a new addition to the Southeast faculty, Mrs. Hulda Stucky replaced Mrs. Shirlene Silvertooth.

In addition to the common business courses, business mathematics, clerical and secretarial training, business law, and business communications were offered by the department. Business communications was extended from a one semester to a full year course.

Connie Both, sophomore, uses one of the many home economics sewing machines as she works on her project in Mrs. G. C. Pepperkorn's fourth hour Clothing II class.

Foods classes offered girls the opportunity to learn to cook a variety of meals. Jan Nelson and Ruth Grant, seniors, are involved in preparing a dinner.

Home Ec. Teachers Aid Girls; Attend K-State

Three home economics teachers aided girls in becoming more efficient future homemakers. Many planned department activities included a trip to Manhattan in April for Kansas State University's Hospitality Day.

Clothing classes stressed the selection, care, and construction of garments. A spring fashion show of the garments made by the girls was scheduled. Planning, preparing, and serving meals was emphasized in foods classes. The students learned to prepare foods from various regions of the world and to cook out-of-doors.

Housing and Home Furnishings accented phases of the choice and decoration of homes. Acquainting students with adjustments necessary for personal happiness, Home and Family Living was taught by a new Home Ec. teacher, Mrs. Verna Buchanan. She also taught Child Care and Development.

More unusual activities included in the curriculum were modern dance, swimming, fencing, archery, golf, tennis, military drill, and bowling.

Intramural sports were encouraged, and students formed basketball, tennis, volleyball and swimming intramural teams.

They prepared lunch for the population of Southeast, and hired students to aid in the many necessary operations of the cafeteria. In addition to a free lunch, the students received payment.

Speeding the work of keeping Southeast spotless, a bright orange "Minute Misers" delivery cart was utilized by Mr. Charles Knight, who directed eight custodians and a matron.

Seniors Take Honors In Council and Merit Tests

Jan Hornberger and Ann Poppe seniors were recognized as two of Kansas' five winners in the awards competition of the National Council of Teachers of English. John Landis, also a senior, was one of the five state runners-up.

Each of the students took qualifying tests as seniors which narrowed the number of contestants to five—the three winners, Gretchen Miller and Anne Reamer. After completing objective and subjective examinations, these students were entered as contestants and Jan, Ann and John were honored.

Eleven Southeast seniors were National Merit Semifinalists this year. Jim Brinkley, Dan Disten, Jennifer Friesen, David Funk, Jan Hornberger, John Landis, Sharon Meaders, Gretchen Miller, Steve Morgan, John Peterson, and Kathy Prossner took the Merit Test in February, 1967, and each attained a score of at least 143 of the possible 160 points.

Twenty-seven letters of commendation were awarded to students who scored between 134 and 142.

Seniors Jan Hornberger, John Landis, and Ann Poppe discuss the NCTE awards. The three were announced as winners in late September, 1967.

Victorious Debate Year; SE Wins Second In State

During 1967 — 68 Southeast's debate team had its most successful year, winning a total of thirty-four trophies. Southeast won the second place prize in state competition. Southeast won more honors than any other school in Kansas in the debate field, adding more incentive for the already successful Southeast squad.

Southeast debaters, coached by Mr. Bill Robinson, attended tournaments in all areas in Kansas each weekend during first semester. In October they hosted their own tournament, a cross-examination contest with sixty teams participating.

Resolved: That Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures. Under this topic, the affirmative debate team had to present a code or plan regulating police procedure when investigating suspected criminals that would work better than the Supreme Court which controls criminal investigation procedure laws.

Southeast's district and state team, Marc Salto, Gretchen Miller, Jan Hornberger, and Bob Latham, captured first place in district debate at Campus High School and second in state competition at KSTC of Emporia. Southeast also won first in regionals at WSU, where Andy Allen, RICHIE, replaced Bob Latham.

Mr. Vernon Nicholson selected the 88 mixed voices of which the Southeast Sophomore Choir was composed. In conditioning members for further work in music ensembles such as Choraleers and Madrigals, the choir performed in school concerts, assemblies, and programs.

Modernaires was directed by Mrs. Trudy Burkholder and consisted of 52 junior and senior mixed voices. They sang in the four Southeast concerts and presented various programs in and outside of school during the year.

Twenty-three junior and senior boys participated in Boys Ensemble. Established last year, the group was selected from auditions. Under the direction of Mr. Nicholson, the ensemble sang for many civic groups, school functions, and school events.

Lack Of Room Created "The Backstage Minority"

"The Backstage Minority," a special girls ensemble was composed of ten selected, mixed voices. Directed by Mrs. Trudy Burkholder, the group became known as "The Backstage Minority" when a lack of classroom space forced them to use the rear portion of the auditorium stage during fourth hour. Formed this year by Mrs. Burkholder, the ensemble performed in school concerts, programs, assemblies and occasionally for civic groups.

Also under the guidance of Mrs. Burkholder, the Girls Glee Club participated in the school concerts and in the city and state music festivals. Composed of 89 sophomore, junior, and senior girls, the Club was divided into three classes, and met first, third, and sixth hours.

Stringed Group Established, Directed By Tolle

Mr. Thayne Tolle formed and directed the Stringed Quartet, the newest addition to the group of Southeast music ensembles. Consisting of a senior girl and boy and two junior boys, the quartet practiced during sixth hour and performed for church groups and for Mr. Ross Lee Finney at the Kansas Music Teachers Association convention in Salina.

Nineteen members of the marching band comprised the stage band. An established group at Southeast for three years, the band was directed by Mr. Tolle. They entertained at assemblies, other schools and accompanied vocal groups in the Fine Arts Department production of "Choralesque."

New white blouses worn by the girls and familiar gold coats identified the 30 members of the pep band. Also under the enthusiastic guidance of Mr. Tolle, the band encouraged competitive spirit at pep assemblies and at home basketball games.

Instrumentalists Play In Concerts, Contests

Under the capable guidance of Mr. Thayne Tolle, the Southeast marching band demonstrated intricate skills during half-time at home football games. They also performed in the Wichita Christmas Parade. As the symphonic band, the 94 members presented several concerts during the year, and participated in the city and state music festivals.

Presenting concerts throughout the year, the Southeast orchestra consisted of 64 members and was also directed by Mr. Tolle. They provided instrumental accompaniment for the Christmas play, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," and played in the festivals.

From the Orchestra, twenty-two ensembles were formed during the year. Ten of the groups were chosen to represent Southeast in the music festivals.

Glittering gold uniforms were worn by the four twirlers. Led at football games by drum major Jack Irving, they presented half time entertainment at all home football and basketball games.

Paper Staffs Merged By New Journalism Advisor

Combining the efforts of the fourth and fifth hour journalism classes, Mr. Dean Campbell, new journalism advisor, supervised the publication of the Southeast newspaper, the Stampede, and the yearbook, the Hoofbeats.

Approximately 45 students checked "beats", wrote assigned stories and headlines, laid out pages, and made occasional trips to the printers every week. Each Wednesday, fourth hour journalists distributed the Stampede in the cafeteria, while other staff members left school in search of advertisers.

Yearbook deadlines were met on time, as section editors worked on Saturdays to complete each area of the book. Members of the Hoofbeats staff toured the American Yearbook Company in Topeka and during the summer, attended journalism workshops on the Kansas State or Kansas University campuses in preparation for yearbook work.

Publications, a new journalism study hall, gave students an extra opportunity to devote time to both the yearbook and the newspaper.

Eight journalists were initiated into the honorary journalism society, Quill and Scroll, by mid-year, giving Southeast a club of ten members.

Student Life

Student Life includes every phase of the scholar's life both in and out of school. Just as academics expands and disciplines the mind, student to attain a wider range of activities and friends. Participation in class and outside activities affords the character needed to become a better rounded person

During the first six days of school, students were not allowed to leave the school grounds.

Due to construction delays, many of the students were not able to come to school on the first day of school.

Many students celebrate the first day of school.

Senior girls demonstrate to the students what they will be doing with the new equipment in the Senior Center.

One of the joys of going to school is the opportunity to meet new people. In this photo, Larry Kuhl, Dave Hoeft, and Bill Flemming, seniors, are seen in a classroom setting.

Student Life Entails Classes, Clubs, Cliques

Sandy Garner, junior, is seen in a classroom setting, possibly during a lesson or activity.

Student Life has many phases, including activities in and out of the classroom. Any activity which involves a Southeast student whether it be connected directly with Southeast or not is student life.

For the new students there was the confusion of finding each classroom as well as approaching the battle at "C and Main" for the first time.

For the "old pros" as well as beginners there were many back-to-school parties and dances such as the Sophomore-Junior Tea, Sophomore-Senior breakfast post-game dances, and the Junior-Senior Prom.

Throughout the year school spirit was displayed at games, pep assemblies, concerts, plays, and many other school functions.

When the Christmas season arrived at Southeast the joys of Christmas were spread throughout the school with caroling and many parties.

Each day at Southeast was unique, but there were some things which typified an average day. Other activities such as OSOM Weeks and Boot Day made some days stand out from the rest.

Student Life meant a great deal to everybody, but to the seniors there were many activities that were special: ordering graduation announcements, getting measured for cap and gown, attending vespers, and finally graduation.

Fall Play - "Anne Frank; Diary Of A Young Girl"

'The Diary of Anne Frank' was one of the most rewarding plays we have ever presented. The cast enjoyed working with these "real life" characters, and reliving their experiences for the audiences," commented drama instructor, Miss Ruth McCormick, on "The Diary of Anne Frank" this year's fall play, presented November 16 and 17.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" is a play from the World War II period that combines tragedy with moments of light comedy to tell the story of a young Jewish girl and her family that went into hiding during the German overthrow of eastern Europe. During the course of the play, the Franks and their friends, the Van Daans go into hiding in an attic above a warehouse. Later, they are joined by Mr. Dussel and this "family" of eight lives together for almost two years — with help from Miep and Mr. Kraler their sympathetic allies.

The cast members included: Anne, Jan Chandler; Mr. Frank, Steve Brockelman; Mrs. Frank, Melissa Harub; Margot, Julie Langston; Mr. Van Daan, Brice Warrick; Mrs. Van Daan, Roberta Eaton; Peter, Joe Coulter; Mr. Dussel, Tom Wanko; Miep, Jean McGehee; Mr. Kraler, Mike O'Dell. Mouschi, the cat, was played by Stormy Campbell.

Jamison Crowned Queen Of Homecoming '67-'68

Nancy Jamison was crowned Southeast's 1967-68 Homecoming Queen during half-time ceremonies at the Southeast-East game on October 20

Attended by seniors Margaret Langston and Kathy Maloney, Queen Nancy began her reign with a tour of the field on this year's winning float made by the class of '68

Preceding the game, all candidates were presented in the second annual homecoming parade, which was moved to Veterans Field due to the construction in and around Southeast. Consisting of the three class floats, the marching band, and the pep club, the procession paraded around the field before the start of the game

The following evening, Queen Nancy and her attendants were honored at the homecoming dance, "A Fall Affair." Following the presentation of the autographed football and the homecoming necklaces, the girls began the traditional royal dance escorted by Mike Fox, Robbie Penna, and Steve Vandaveer, members of the football team

Queen Nancy was the second Jamison to receive the honor of being chosen as homecoming queen. This was also the second year the class of '68 won the float competition contest

“Autumn Skylights” Set Mood For Jr.-Sr. Prom

“Autumn Skylights” was the theme of this year's Junior-Senior Prom held on November 2, at the Cotillion Ballroom.

Twinkling lights on a high rising skyline provided fanciful background for the coronation of Kathy Maloney and Steve Tippin. The royal couple were attended by seniors Barbara Allen and Jim Dye; and Gayle Szymkowicz and Bill Vestle. Junior Attendants were Judy Gould and Tom Krebs; and Debbie Kidwell and David Gensch.

After the presentation of roses and crown by the junior attendants, and the traditional coronation kiss Queen Kathy and King Steve began their royal dance to the strains of “Ebb Tide.”

Masters of ceremonies was Spencer Davies, Student Body Vice President. Bill Ayesh, Eddie Farha, Eric Hartman, Bob Howse, Vic Markey, and Scott Smith, sophomores, served as doormen at the prom.

The music was provided by “The Reasons Why.”

Half time activities of the Southeast-West game were highlighted by the crowning of Southeast's 1967

1968 Basketball Sweetheart Queen, Carol Shaw. Attended by Becky Brown and Gayle Szymkovicz, the Queen was presented with a bouquet of red roses following the traditional coronation kiss.

Queen Carol continued her reign at the annual Sweetheart Dance in the Southeast cafeteria on February 20. The Queen was presented with an engraved charm and her attendants received small basketball necklaces as mementoes of the occasion. Senior Jeff Wisner, a member of the Southeast basketball squad recrowned Carol and accompanied her in the royal dance. They were joined by her attendants, Becky Brown and Gayle Szymkovicz, escorted by seniors Jim Dye and Bill Vestie, both members of the basketball team.

The additional nine candidates sponsored by Pep Club and the varsity basketball team were Karen Adams, Nancy Coulson, Jan Dye, Debbie France, Julie Langston, and Joanie Woolf and semifinalists Kathy Hines, Christie Johnson, and Terry Ralstin.

Organizations

Clubs offer students the opportunity of meeting new people and to share with them experiences pertaining to common interests. These organizations provide fun through after — school snack sales, and All — School Project booths; but they also provide learning situations from the wider range of friends and the election of officers. Clubs teach students the give and take of life; for they are experiencing a democracy in their own organization.

SE Clubs Investigate Possible Professions

Future Teachers Club introduced its members to teaching as a profession, informed its members about the field of education and helped them to decide on a possible teaching career. The club was sponsored by Mr. Marvin Huffman.

Offering an extension of classroom work and experiences in science and math were the purposes of Science and Math Club. The club was sponsored by Mr. Neil Miller, Mr. Noland Wallace and Mr. Robert Herdt. Activities of the year included field trips and talks by guest speakers.

Investigating possible careers in medicine were members of Medical Careers Club. Sponsored by Mrs. Margaret Walters, school nurse, the club tried to promote interest in the field of medicine. The 25 members of Medical Careers Club volunteered to collect money for the March of Dimes and collected used eye glasses to donate to the Medical Service Bureau, which assists needy people with obtaining eye glasses. Medical Careers Club's fund raising project was selling stuffed mascots called "Buffys." The money raised from this went to charter a bus for a tour of the KU Medical Center in Kansas City. The club also sponsored a booth in the All-School Project.

Library Proctors Help Students Locate Books

Library proctors received credits toward graduation for the first time this year. They were graded on attitude as well as their scores on quizzes. The 36 library proctors were tested on their daily routine, where and in what order books go and correct procedures when checking out books and magazines. Duties of library proctors were checking out books, student passes, for stolen books and helping students find books they need.

Selling school supplies, combs, candy, kleenex, and Southeast stickers were bookstore proctors. Sponsored by Mr. Marion Morozzo, eleven students served as bookstore proctors. Profits were used to improve the school.

Filing student records for teachers and counselors was the main task of the eleven counselor proctors. The proctors delivered slips to students and ran other errands for the counselors. The proctors also approved schedule changes to take to the attendance office.

Varsity Cheerleaders Promote School Spirit

Supporting the Buffs at athletic events, improving relations with other schools, and the promotion of school spirit throughout the student body were the six varsity cheerleaders. Two cheerleaders from each class were elected by the student body. Sponsored by Mrs. Ruby Schrader, the cheerleaders cheered at all of the football and basketball games and at pep assemblies. They attended clinics at Kansas State and Campus High School and sponsored a clinic of their own at Curtis Jr. High, where they taught the junior high girls various cheers and scheduled a tryout routine.

Dinners with cheerleaders from each of the other high schools were attended by Southeast cheerleaders. Serving as hostesses, the cheerleaders also attended the Football Banquet and the Basketball Open House.

As official members of the Pep Club cabinet, the varsity cheerleaders decorated goal posts, cheered at Pep Club meetings and attended Pep Club cabinet dinners.

Christmas brought the traditional cheerleader slumber party and gift exchange. Slumber parties and dinners were scheduled throughout the year. The cheerleaders also sponsored ribbon sales and the dart throw booth at the All-school Project.

Performing the clap cheer at a pep assembly are the six varsity cheerleaders.

Sports

Southeast sports encourage achievement, but more important achievement through sportsmanship. Each participant is expected to give the student the opportunity to compete and to learn to keep in perspective. These sports are not just a way to pass time, but a way to learn to work together and to respect the rules of the game. A true sportsman is one who is fair, honest, and who is willing to learn from his mistakes. The student who is a true sportsman will be a leader in the classroom and in the community.

SE Cross Country Team Has Successful Season

Due to the fine efforts of Coach Charles Hatter and the team, Southeast's cross country season can be looked on as successful; overcoming obstacles such as relatively inexperienced team members. Seven boys, mostly sophomores, lettered this year.

The cross country team placed fourth or better in most meets, with the final tally never dropping below seventh.

Highlight of the season, was junior John Noffsinger's state run, which won him ninth place. Running in 34 degree weather, John beat 80 others with his 10:07 time.

Running the last few yards to the finish line, Bill Ayesh, sophomore, displays a sudden burst of energy.

Southeast Buffaloes Lead By Hurtt, Lehner

Southeast's Golden Buffalo football team, under the direction of Head Coach Marvin Vandaveer, captured a fourth place tie with Kapaun, completing the season with three wins, three losses and one tie in this year's city league action.

Seniors Bob Hurtt and Gary Lehner shared the team spotlight as they earned the Wichita Eagle All-City team honors. They were both placed on the second team.

Promises for a strong varsity team next year were found in the "B" team record of four wins, one loss and two ties.

Southeast's Baby Buffs team record held high hopes with their four wins, three losses and one tie.

Buff's Take City League, Regionals Undefeated

Randy Canfield, junior, desperately secures possession of the basketball during a game with East

Southeast's basketball team finished first in the City League to be the only team to end the season undefeated with a record of 18 and 0. Two more victories were acquired when the Buffs took the Class AA regionals at Winfield by defeating Ark City and Wellington

Two of the starting five basketball players were nominated to the All-City team. They were Bill Vestle, senior, and Randy Canfield, junior

Randy Canfield was also the number one nomination to the All-State basketball team as the most inspirational and most valuable player

The most inspirational Southeast player nominated by the team itself was Jeff Wisner, senior

The "B" and sophomore basketball teams compiled an impressive season. The "B" team upset previously undefeated Wichita Heights in one of the last city league games. The Sophomore team lost only two games and helped the players gain experience for varsity next year

Individual Performances High Spot For Gymnasts

Southeast Gymnasts placed fifth in the City meet, attaining one win, one tie, and three losses, despite their whole-hearted efforts.

Seniors, Larry Raitt, Dev Hartman, Steve Enright and Steve Kurtz, four of the returning lettermen, led S.E. in its scoring throughout the season.

The lettermen also applied the necessary help and leadership for the juniors and sophomores to promote good teams in the future. "We lacked the experience that we hope to have next year although more practice time will have to be given," quoted gymnastic Coach Marvin Vandaveer.

Next year's prospects are Eddie Irwin, Dennis Mulvaney, Randy Testmer, Gary Courtney, Bill Schwiethale, Larry Richardson and Steve Rind.

Gymnastics include many facets of physical exertions and exercises as well as mental readiness before performances. The fields include: Free Exercise, Rings, Long Horse, Side Horse, Tumbling, and the Parallel Bars.

SE Grapplers Work Hard; Gain Strength For 1969.

Coach "Monk" Edwards grapplers worked out every night from three to five, trying to lose weight and gain victories. If more weight was lost than victories won, it wasn't because the wrestling team didn't try. With only two returning lettermen the Southeast wrestlers entered 12 meets giving every ounce of energy they had to everyone. Many nights were spent running up and down halls, skipping ropes and working out with weights. Coach Edwards gave letters to the deserving grapplers and said he felt that more boys deserved the award.

Swim Team Undeclared In League Competition

Displaying tremendous drive and the capacity for hard work, the Southeast swim team captured first place in the city league, placed second in the Wichita Invitational, and completed the season undefeated in dual competition.

Coach Charles Hatter saw the year as "Highly successful" and refused to single out any one in particular stating that, "Everyone gave all they had."

Led by captain Dwan Green and co-captain Terry Smith, eleven members of the team qualified for the state meet in Lawrence by turning in adequate qualifying times.

The team will be led next year by Scott Agee, captain, and Dan Hirleman and Mike Graves, co-captains. Twelve of the sixteen who lettered this year will return next year.

Eric Bruce drives hard for extra seconds in the breast stroke event.

Golf and Track Teams Return Ten Lettermen

Steve Shook drives the ball down the fairway at Clapp Park

This year's golf squad returned two lettermen on a six-man varsity. The squad is split up into a two man team and a four man team. These two teams then add up their scores to determine the winner of a duel meet. Each meet counts so many points toward the City Championship, and the City Meet counts the most points. At the end of the year the points are added up and the team with the most points wins the City Championship. The only returning lettermen on this year's golf team were Steve Shook and Bruce Anderson, both seniors. All of the golf meets were held at Sims Park and Clapp Park. Coaching the team was Mr. Dave Leach.

The track team returned eight lettermen. They were: Tom Boyd, Marc Cody, Ray Herndon, Alex McLaren, Gary Maberry, Guy Morrow, John Noffsinger and Jim Shook. A track meet consists of both track and field events. The track events include all of the running events on the track. The field events include high jump, pole vault, shot put, javelin, discus, broad jump, the hop-skip-jump, etc. Coaching this year's team was Coach Paul Andree.

Southeast Girls Enjoy After School Athletics

Throughout the school year, Mondays and Wednesdays after school were open opportunities for all Southeast girls to participate in a variety of girls' sports.

Fall sports included archery, tennis, and field hockey, and as the year progressed, indoor sports such as gymnastics, intramural volleyball and basketball, bowling, modern dance, and recreational swimming on Monday evenings became popular with participating girls.

In several of the sports, extra activities took place. Southeast's girls' field hockey team played South High's girls' team. The girls' gymnastics team attended a clinic in Manhattan in December, performed with West High girls during a South-Southeast basketball halftime show, gave an hour-long show for the girls at Curtis Junior High, and participated in the all-city meet in February. Outside activities in bowling included Mother-Daughter and Father-Daughter tournaments.

Sponsoring the girls' sports were the girls' physical education instructors, with the help of Letterwomen who officiated all the games.

This year's successful girls' sports program provided a worthwhile and recreational after school pastime, as well as the accumulation of points for Letterwomen's letters.

Sophs Join Southeast Adjust, Plan, Change

Learning the traditions, routines, and patterns of high school life at Southeast, the sophomores quickly adapted to the activities and tasks that faced them. Officers and representatives were elected and led their class with the help of Mrs. Pauline Brown, class sponsor.

Sophomores began the year by attending orientation, the Sophomore-Junior girls' tea, and the Sophomore-Senior girls' breakfast. Throughout the year they participated in school activities such as the All-School Project, the Homecoming float contest, talent assemblies, the Ugly Man on Campus contest, and pep assemblies. A car wash, a bake sale, and a caramel apple sale were sponsored as money-raising projects.

Members of the sophomore class served as door men for the Junior-Senior Prom, were varsity and B-team cheerleaders, and participated in athletics. Others displayed school spirit by attending games, plays, concerts, and additional school activities.

Delivery of class rings highlighted the sophomores' first year, symbolizing the advancement from the ranks of sophomores to that of juniors.

Jrs. Join Upperclass; Support Many Projects

Having lived the role of both upper and lower classmen, the juniors strived to live up to the examples set by the seniors and at the same time guided the sophomores through their first year. Elected in the spring of '67, the officers and representatives immediately began planning activities for the '67-'68 school year.

Juniors sponsored various fund raising projects, including bake sales, candy sales, garage sales, and dances. They also participated in the All School-Project, the homecoming float competition, Ugly Man on Campus, and OSOM week.

In accordance with tradition, the juniors sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom, and ushered at senior graduation.

Displaying much enthusiasm and school spirit, the juniors vigorously supported Junior Week with posters and a pep assembly.

A highlight of the junior year was ring turning, which officially promoted the juniors to the senior class.

American History, a required course for juniors, acquainted students with past and present government policies. Many juniors were introduced to Southeast's "team teaching" program, where the number of students and teachers for a single class were tripled and met as one group.

Junior officers met several times during the school year to discuss plans for projects for their class.

Juniors

Using the theorem $\{f_{\alpha} : \alpha < \omega_1\}$ is a Δ^1_1 set, the theorem follows.

Cultural activity — a social gathering.

Senior Class Officers. STANDING: Mr. Deane, president; C. Day, vice president; SEATED: Catherine, secretary; Kathy Hines, treasurer; Billie Albright, treasurer.

Engrossed in a lecture are the best of the best — the seniors.

Seniors Mature, Progress During Southeast Years

With mixed emotions, the Seniors of '68 leave Southeast behind as they acquire a new independence and a higher prestige as a high school graduate. Since the fall of '65 when they entered as Sophomores, these Seniors have matured in both emotional and educational areas. Upon leaving Southeast, each person is a more complete individual than he was three years ago. The Seniors have contributed much to making Southeast the best high school in the city.

Three years of memories accompany the Seniors as they leave Southeast. They remember the agony of being a sophomore, the confusion of learning the school, meeting new people, and adjusting to the differences of high school as compared to junior high. As juniors, their social status rose as they became upper-classmen. Engaged in numerous activities such as the sponsoring of the Jr.-Sr. Prom, their winning the Homecoming float contest, and the ordering and receiving of class rings. Now, as seniors, they are once again in the top position as juniors and sophomores look to them for guidance. Attending their last football and basketball games, the Senior Prom and Banquet, upholding the winning Homecoming float contest, making plans for college, and many more memories accompany the departing Southeast seniors. Mementoes such as wilted corsages, game programs, and yearbooks will serve as visible reminders of their high school years.

Southeast government classes voted for students in a mock election for governor. Randy Loveland pauses while making a speech for the office.

In Appreciation . . .

At this time I wish to express my thanks to Mr. Dean Campbell, the personnel of Student Photos, Mr. Frank Wright and Mr. John Saylor of the American Yearbook Company; and to the administration, faculty, student body, and custodians at Southeast for all their cooperative assistance.

I would also like to express my appreciation to all my staff members, but, in particular, five people whom I believe deserve a special note of thanks for their efforts. Heart-felt thanks to Cheryl Bowman and Karen White who had to work not only on their respective sections, but also edit the newspaper; to Jill Swartzendruber who so industriously and devoutly completed her section, to Elaine Records who so willingly gave time and help to many; and to Mahlon Moore whose time-consuming photographic dedication I could not have done without.

Also my sincere appreciation is extended to all my friends, in particular David Link who so often listened to my problems and gave encouragement, and to my staff members who put up with me during the trying times which accompanied yearbook deadlines.
